Our nationally recognised Project Management programs have been endorsed by the highly regarded Australian Institute of Project Management (AIPM).

Our graduates are eligible to apply for certification as a Certified Practicing Project Practitioner (CPPP) under AIPM’s RegPM program. Payment of membership fees will apply for RegPM Certification.

As our Project Management courses are endorsed by AIPM, we can also assist students with becoming student members of AIPM and receiving the many benefits including invitations to networking events and access to AIPM resources.

All of our training facilitators are fully qualified and pride themselves in having a great deal of relevant industry experience. Students will benefit from a Subject Matter Expert (SME) who is experienced in delivery and assessing within industry, university and within the Vocational Education and Training environment. We have the flexibility of offering our courses over a variety of delivery methods. These include online studies and face to face workshops or a mixture of both. We pride ourselves in being able to customise our approach as required to suit each of our student’s specific needs.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is the recognition of a person’s current skills and knowledge acquired through prior learning from other training, work or life experience. Some students have skills and knowledge that enable them to gain a qualification without completing a standard training program or course. These skills and knowledge may have been gained through other forms of study, formal training, self-tuition, work experience or life experience.

If students already possess the skills and can demonstrate evidence, they are eligible to engage in the Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) process. We take a unique approach to the RPL process by taking on board the entire competency mapping, making it a very simple and time efficient process for each student. We do the hard work, not you.
